

PAPOUTSI, Fani

Short CV

Fani Papoutsi holds a master's degree (MSc) in Educational Technologies and Human Resources Development from the University of Athens, Greece, a Bachelor's degree (BSc) in Information Management (direction: Informatics) from the International Hellenic University, Greece and a Bachelor's Degree (BSc) in Business Administration (direction: Management) from the University of West Attica, Greece. She is currently a PhD Candidate in the Department of Electrical and Electronics Engineering, University of West Attica, Greece and a member of the Electronics & Computer Technologies Lab (ECTLab) research group on E-Learning Technologies.

She has a long professional experience in the field of Informatics as a teacher on Computers in primary, secondary, post-secondary education and at the Greek Probation Officers School (2007 until today). She has worked as a project manager in the Directorate of Technological Applications Development of the Hellenic Social Insurance Institution (2008-2012), as an IT project manager at the Hellenic Accounting and Auditing Standards Oversight Board (AAOB), (2012-2014), and as an instructor to the application system of the Hellenic Correctional Facilities (Ministry of Justice, Greece).

Since 2015 she has been employed as an Academic and Administrative Staff Mobility Specialist, to the International Credit Mobility of the Erasmus+ Office in University of West Attica, Greece.

She has a strong interest and professional involvement in International and European Programs (integration into the contemporary Greek context), as well as in the management of educational organizations, [1]. Her research interests include innovative education methods and tools and ICT-based educational technologies, including digital environments / e-learning platforms.

[1] Papoutsi F.A. (2019) Creativity Development and Educational Expenditures: An Exploratory Study. In: Sykianakis N., Polychronidou P., Karasavoglou A. (eds) Economic and Financial Challenges for Eastern Europe. Springer Proceedings in Business and Economics. Springer, Cham. https://doi.org/10.1007/978-3-030-12169-3_25